

Characteristics of a Foreign Language Speaker

Fluency in reading.

The confidence to speak with good intonation and pronunciation.

An independence in their studies and the ability to draw upon a wide range of resources.

Fluency and imagination in writing.

The ability to use language creatively and spontaneously.

A strong awareness of the culture of the countries where the language is spoken.

A passion for languages and a commitment to the subject.

